Stop & Shop bought the two pieces of land with the announced intention of establishing a supermarket on the 3.4 acres of land. The first purchase by Stop & Shop was in November of 1958.

JIMMY SHOULD PUT THE LUNCH CART OUT OF BOUNDS

That lunch cart is giving Jimmy McLaughlin a lot of trouble. He should declare it "out of bounds". Every time he denounces a "lie" it gets proved to be the truth, right down in that lunch cart.

There was a fellow in the lunch cart the other day who has seen nomination papers for Jimmy McLaughlin for Commissioner of Middlesex County, yet everyone knows that it was a "lie"
when it appeared in the Town Crier.

Of course what the boys in the lunch cart
haven't tumbled to is that Jimmy may be playing another "double game".

He could, you know, very gracefully withdraw at a strategic moment, in favor of someone who is sure to be elected, and - who knows?? Maybe Jimmy could then wangle an appointment as a Deputy Sheriff of Middlesex County!

Another subject of conversation in the lunch cart concerns Jimmy's relationship with the boys in the State House.

They are getting tired of Jimmy. For months
now they have wanted to appoint the "State"
member to the Wilmington Housing Authority,
but, because Jimmy is ostensibly the Democratic "Chief" in Wilmington the appointment is supposed to be made through Jimmy.

But one of these days an appointment might be made - Jimmy or no Jimmy.

And that's the way it is.

MORE WORDS ON CURBSTONES

We received a surprising amount of comment
as a result of the article we had in this column last week, entitled "Governor Curley's curb stones".

A couple of our readers thought we were taking a poke at the late Governor, which of course was not the case.

Most of our readers understood that the article was written to show that Wilmington has often done things on a basis of emotion, and has just as often paid for that emotion the hard way.

It was a plea, if you please, to our people
to do a little thinking, before they make up their minds - not to let their emotions rule
their judgements.

The comment we like best did not come from the Rev. Richard Harding, although it does sound like the Reverend gentleman's type of hu-
or. It went like this:

A man and his wife went to the races. She bet on a horse because she thought it had a pretty name.

That was emotional voting.

He bet on a horse only after he had spent a long time studying charts and graphs.

That was intellectual voting.

Neither horse won.

WILMINGTON AND THE IPSWICH RIVER

As could be expected, Selectman Charles H.
Black, on June 13th was the man who pointed out to the visiting Reading Board of Public Works that Reading was one of the towns which had blocked an effort on Wilmington's part back in the early fifties.

Those who know Mr. Black know that this is a part of his background - the man with the long memory who can bring up things that happened years ago at the right moment. It is one of the reasons he is so valuable on the Board of Selectmen.

Had he wished he could have spoken at length

A route sign is

So reassuring;

(If it's the route

on our problems, but he didn't, and perhaps we should tell a part of our sad history.

Wilmington happens to have 10,500 acres, of which a large part is either ledge or swamp,
and the good parts of town, for years, have had an awful tendency to disappear in the form of gravel pits.

If we could lower the water table, by dredging the Ipswich, a lot of land could be reclaimed that is now valueless. A lot of people have thought of this problem for years, and your columnist is relatively a new-comer. But can recall the late Charley Blaisdell talking of this, forty years ago, and after him we can recall the late Robert Carter, both of whom were road commissioners of Wilmington and knew something of our problems.

Back in about 1951 the writer, Minot Anderson, then a construction engineer, and now the Building Inspector, James Shine of Grove Ave.
and Anthony Meads, of Main Street formed a little foursome to see what could be done.

We explored the river enough to determine that it would be feasible to dredge, for four miles down from Jenks Bridge (Woburn St) and that this dredging would lower the river four feet in the spring time without any effect on the water table at Reading's water supply in the summer.

It was possible, at that time, under the Union Health Act, for the towns to act in concert, and for $30,000 we could all have benefitted, if we had been willing to subscribe to a slight fib by saying that we were interested in mosquito control.

But the powers that were in the Town Hall at that time had what they thought was a better idea, and rather than cramp their act we kept silent. They were going to get the state to do the work without cost to the town.

$26,000 was appropriated for a survey, and a survey of the river was made which showed that for some $600 or $700 thousand the river could be dredged, a lot of bridges rebuilt and a lot of other work done.

We didn't give the resulting bill in the Legislature a chance, but we still kept quiet.

The bill didn't have a chance, for both Reading and Peabody protested, from what we thought were inadequate grounds. The bill was killed.

It was the opposition, by Reading, to which Mr. Black referred on June 10th.

And we still have our acres and acres of swamp, together with clouds of mosquitoes and other pests. It is impossible to do anything today under the Union Health Act, for it no longer exists.

North Reading has done a lot of work, on its own accord, but Wilmington cannot, unless the Reading Board of Public Works goes through with its thoughts of being "Good Neighbors".

And if Mr. Black has so persuaded them, it will be just one more feather to the many he now carries on his bonnet.

TOWN NOTES

The First Week was Rough

By the time this story appears on the street the conditions described will probably have been corrected, but let it go on record that the first week that the new Red Cross
Life Guard worked at Silver
Lake Beach was a rough week.

There was a gap in the fence,
which had been taken down, so that additional sand could be placed on the beach area.

There was only one guard,
instead of two, as things
should be when there are huge crowds. Perhaps it was not felt that there would be big crowds in that first week, but there were - over 1300 last Thursday, for instance, after school let out.

And dogs kept coming in through that gap, not only four legged dogs, which Jim Lambert keeps off the beach
for sanitary reasons, but two legged dogs who think that beer bottles and beaches have a natural affinity, and that children never cut their feet
on broken beer bottles.

Jim was kicking both varieties of dogs off the beach all day Thursday, but when the crowd came in he didn't have time to do anything but watch
the kids.

It was then that a group of two legged dogs, (out of towners) invaded the beach through the gap, carrying, in addition to their beer bottles, some jack handles, and in such a manner that suggested they just didn't intend to be disturbed.

But they didn't stay long,
for they spotted Police Matron Margaret Calnan on the telephone, and got the idea that she was calling the police,
which she was.

So we hope that by this time
the gap in the fence is no longer there, and that the second guard is also on duty.

Unchanged

Rotarian Al Malone, of Church Street wants it distinctly understood that he is the 'liveliest' Rotarian in the Town of Wilmington.

Al's wishes come from a little joke that was published in last week's Rotary News Letter
by Editor Harold Foley. Hal finished the News-Letter with an obituary on Al, enclosed in heavy black lines, as part of a joke.

And Al is now looking for a way to get even. He is even threatening to 'swipe' Hal's glasses, so that Foley won't be able to see, and write any more News Letters.

Any suggestions on what Al
can do?

And Changed

On the other hand, another Rotarian, Raymond Fitch by name, has changed his appearance.

He is not in a casket - nor is he a candidate for such a position, but his physical appearance has suddenly changed,
and he is proud of it.

We won't give away the secret, we would rather let Ray explain it, himself.

Busiest Men

The three busiest men in Wilmington, these days are Eddie Page, of Grove Avenue, Henry Flight of Shawshen Avenue,
and Bill Stickney of Linda Road.

They work long and hard hours
every night, at Page's home on Grove Ave., building themselves three very tricky folding house trailers.

The Boston Globe had a story not too long ago, of a man in Billerica who build such a trailer, and then made a 9,000
mile trek with it.

We don't know if our busy men
are planning a 9,000 mile trek and we are just wondering if they plan to bring their wives
in such a case, and further,
if their wives would go.

Curious Coincidence Best

After we had got around to reading our own copy of the Town Crier, last week, we noticed that we had pictures of three neighbors, all from Grove Ave. It isn't often that such a thing happens.

We had Judy McElville, from

NURSE REFRESHER COURSE AT WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

The refresher course for graduate nurses which was given at the Winchester Hospital last fall will be repeated in late September. The enthusiastic response to this course was such that all applicants could not be accepted, and the course is to be given again for the benefit of late registrants as well as other graduate nurses who, although they presently are not active in their profession, are still interested in maintaining their professional skills. The course is given without charge and Massachusetts registration is not required. This 8 week program will feature a series of lectures and demonstrations in major areas of modern medicine and nursing, and will be conducted one evening a week. The lectures will be presented by physicians and nurses who are specialists in these fields.

Miss Marjorie F. Snyder, R.N. Director of Nursing, has appointed Mrs. Doris M. Cayer, RN as coordinator of the program. A further announcement in September will advise the dates of registration.

The singing commercial, now current on radio, about 43 beans in a cup of coffee must have some sort of relationship to Wilmington.

The Board of Health, Monday night, signed licenses for 43 food handling establishments in Wilmington.

No Coffee Marks

We don't know what kind of dire punishment Chief of Police Paul Lynch has promised, but it seems to be mighty effective.

Every cop in our Police Department is now ever so ever so careful about how he handles coffee cups, in the new police station.

Never is a cup put down on a bare table or counter top. Always there is a protective blotter or piece of paper beneath the coffee cup.

Maybe some of the wives of our gendarmes would like to know about this - that's the only reason we bother to tell it.

First Peas

Joe Filipowicz of Oakridge Circle stands a pretty good chance of winning the Town Crier's mythical Golden Pea Spoon, for 1960.

Joe had fresh peas, from his garden, for supper Tuesday night - presumably the first backyard gardener in Wilmington to have peas out of his garden in sufficient quantity for a meal, in 1960.

If no earlier claimants show up we shall award the Golden Pea Spoon to Joe, with mythical music, and a mythical parade on Oakridge Circle, sometime about July 1.

Joe incidentally is quite an enthusiastic backyard gardener even if his garden is only 27 feet long. He has, besides peas, lettuce, radishes, beans, carrots, beets, and watermelon. No corn though - too much of a problem fighting off the squirrels.

Hot People

The hottest people in Wilmington, under the collar that is, are the residents of Glen Road and adjacent streets near Silver Lake.

A couple of young hot rodders have been burning up the place with noisy cars and screechy tires.

Mine Host

We don't know if TM Cecil O. was interested in dogs before he came to Wilmington, but he most certainly can be described today as a Man Who Has Gone To The Dogs.

When he bought his present home he also acquired a Belgian Police Dog from the former owner, Mary Dillaway, and in the process inherited one of Mary's annual parties.

Mary always had the members of the Myopia Hunt Club as guests after the annual Dog Show at those fashionable diggings on the North Shore.

Cecil showed his Belgian at the Dog Show there, last Saturday (He has hopes of having the dog win a Championship). Afterwards, in accordance with custom, he had the members of the club at his home as guests on Saturday evening.

We hear there were over 100 guests present.

PLANNING BOARD MEETING WITH HOUSING AUTHORITY

The Wilmington Planning Board approved in general the Zoning Plans proposed by the Wilmington Housing Authority for the Urban Renewal project, in a special meeting Tuesday night.

As a board there was no approval, but the members indicated that there were no major objections to the Zoning plans.

But there were many objections to some of the words used in the proposal, words which the Planning Board thought to be ambiguous, and there was no expression of opinion as to the Urban Renewal project as a whole.

Points

Among some of the minor points that were cleared up was a definition of the words 'Village Attorney', which appears in the proposal.

The Planning Board took this to mean the Town Counsel, Mr. Buzzell, but they were told that the meaning was, instead, the attorney for the Housing Authority, Mr. Melvin Levine, of Boston.

The Parking rules provided were found to be more rigorous than those provided by the Zoning Laws of Wilmington.

Mr. Gillis did not agree with the use of the word 'decadent' pointing out that the present Fire Stations could be so termed, but was told by Chairman Beers of the Planning Board that the repairs effected to the Fire Station have made it no longer 'decadent'.

A phrase about an 'Assistant Director' for Urban Renewal drew some fire from Gillis. He was told that this was part of a form prepared by some of the consultants, but that the WHA had not voted for an Assistant Director.

'Modification' of uses permitted in the area was the subject of a long discussion.

The Planning Board, and especially Chairman Beers, objected to wording which indicated that the Housing Authority could change at will the uses, and Joseph Slater, also of the Planning Board did not like a phrase about 'consultation'.

Beers remarked that the paragraph was 'poorly written' a point with which Director James Franklin agreed, and James Donahue of the Housing Authority told the Planning Board that those phrases were now 'undergoing review' in the New York office of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Zoning Cannot Change

The Planning Board was assured several times that the Zoning changes which would presumably be voted in the Special Town Meeting of Sept. 12th would not be changed in any respect, without proper approval by duly constituted authorities, in spite of any thoughts to the contrary.

Planning Board Reports

The latter part of the nearly four hour meeting was devoted to a review of the various papers necessary in preparation for Urban Renewal submission.

The Planning Board stated that its 'Recreation Study', 'School Housing Study' and 'Capital Budget Outlay' should be ready for approval about September first.

First drafts of these studies were given to the Housing Authority, with the understanding that they would be submitted to the New York office only as 'drafts' and not as approved studies.

PASSAGE OF UNEMPLOYMENT BILL WOULD HAMPER NEW JOBS, GREER OFFICIAL SAYS

Passage of a bill to raise maximum unemployment compensation by $9 weekly would add $11,900 to the J. W. Greer Company's cost of doing business in Massachusetts, Don. S. Greer, president of the company, said yesterday.

Greer said that passage of the measure (H. 1361) now pending before the Massachusetts Senate would ultimately cost Bay State employers $38 million yearly, and would thus seriously hamper industry's effort to expand in order to create needed new jobs.

Mr. Greer pointed out that the unemployment benefit program, financed entirely by employers, is already the most liberal in the nation. 'It is an established fact that the industry of this state must create 90,000 new manufacturing jobs prior to 1970 just to keep pace with our expanding population' Greer said. 'Such expansion can come about only when fiscal responsibility is practised by a realistic legislature, and industry is allowed to look confidently to the future.'

Leaders of both political parties have expressed their desire to encourage the expansion of industry already here, and to encourage new industries to locate in this state. These leaders can now take a positive step in this direction by defeating an exorbitant increase in a benefits program financed entirely by the employers who must be responsible for the needed expansion'.

Mr. Greer said that unemployment benefit payments were increased by $5 weekly less than six months ago. He added that Massachusetts at present replaces a higher percentage of the average weekly manufacturing wage than any other industrial state in the nation.

'In some cases, the unemployed in Massachusetts now receive as much as 120 percent of their take-home pay' he said.

He further pointed out that the increase bill is discriminatory in that it would provide increases only to those unemployed who earn more than $79.69 per week. 'Because of this provision, only selected persons who are unemployed would get the increases under this bill, while all Massachusetts employers would suffer from its passage'.

POISON IVY

A patch of poison ivy has been discovered, by School Dept. officials, to be growing in the rear of the Swain School. It will be rooted out shortly, according to the Supt of Schools.

BUS LICENSE GRANTED TO FRANCIS TROMBLEY

North Reading Snag Found

The Board of Selectmen, Monday night, granted a license to the Trombley Bus Lines to operate busses on Routes 93 and 125, in Wilmington, part of the projected service that the company owned by Francis Trombley of Andover plans to offer between Lawrence, Andover, North Wilmington, and Boston.

A license to operate on Route 62, in North Wilmington, to the North Wilmington parking lot, was temporarily withheld pending information from the Town Counsel as to whether or not a public hearing would be required.

Trombley had been granted a license by the Town of Andover to operate on Route 125, to the Wilmington line. It was discovered, during the course of the conversations, that the route goes through North Reading, for a few hundred feet, and that the Andover license would have to be re-written, as well as a license had from the North Reading Selectmen.

The discovery was made by reason of the new maps recently made by this town. Trombley took several of them, remarking that Andover had 'nothing like this', and plans to show them to the Andover officials.

Trombley told the Wilmington Selectmen that at least a month would elapse before he could get his hearing before the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities, and their license to operate.

WILDCATS LOSE TO THE STONEHAM EAGLES

The Wilmington Pony League Wildcats suffered their third set back of the 1960 season last Saturday morning at Stoneham as they lost to the Stoneham Eagles, 2-1, in nine innings. The Wildcats now have a record of three wins and three losses and each loss has been by a margin of only one run with the winning run being scored in the final inning.

Catcher Jimmy Gillis scored the Wildcats run in the third inning when he walked, stole second and third, and came in on a Tom Grant bunt. Jimmy and Tommy each banged out two hits and Paul Currier picked up one. Jeff Williamson pitched the entire game for the Wildcats, struck out fourteen batters, and gave up four Eagle hits, including a double and single which spelled defeat in the ninth inning.

The Wilmington team was struck by illness Saturday and only ten boys were available for play. Six of those were thirteen years old and four were fourteen which would indicate that prospects for the Wildcats in 1961 are very bright in the league which is organized for boys in the thirteen through fifteen age group. The schedule calls for the Wildcats to meet the Stoneham Falcons at Stoneham on Saturday at 1 p.m. and next Tuesday the Stoneham Hawks will clash with the Wildcats at the Wilmington High School diamond at 6 p.m.

In addition to normal expenses for bats, baseballs, uniform caps, and insurance, the Wilmington Pony League team is required by the league to pay registered umpires for their home games. Naturally, the fans who attend the games and who contribute generously to the collection can not donate enough to meet all of these expenses. Therefore, the boys will appear at various centers of the town on Thursday and Friday evenings asking for the financial support of the towns people to help meet these costs. Please help if you can.

This year the three towns have had $1,498,000 through the first five months (compared to $1,510,570 for the same months a year ago which figures follow in parentheses): North Reading $644,700 ($423,000); Reading $543,600 ($718,000) and Wilmington $309,700 ($369,570). During May the 3-town total was off somewhat from $445,500 a year ago to $355,100 in May this year. Additions, alterations and repairs to all types of structures amounted to $33,705 for the region in May 1960 ($44,465 in May 1959). $10,000 RECOMMENDED FOR CHANGES IN CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH SCHOOL

The Congregational Church Finance Committee has recommended to the church that it approve proposed changes within the church building, for the church school.

A mortgage, of up to $10,000 was recommended, by the Finance Committee.

The recommended plan would divide the lower hall, in the rear of the church, into two class rooms, and would have a heavy plastic folding door, in the upstairs social hall, so that it, too, could be divided into two classrooms.

The proposed changes will have to be voted by the church before they can be made.

NEW ENGLAND UPSWING

By Robert E. Stewart, Pres. Mechanics Savings Bank.

The last two years have been an increase of 139,000 new jobs in New England, with 79,000 of them (or 6 out of every 10) coming in Massachusetts. The region has had encouraging activity in cotton goods with most plants running five and six days a week, while the metal working and electrical machinery industries have provided the most encouraging trends during this year's first quarter. Construction has a more favorable outlook here in New England than in most parts of the country. The 4-county Boston region and other parts of the state have been running strongly ahead of a year ago in total building contract awards.

CLIFF BRAMAN'S DEER

Cliff Braman, of Fairmeadow Road had his neighbor Louie Theriault put a door on his garage, with a deer carved on the door, and ever since then Louie has been threatening to shoot the deer next November, when the deer hunting season opens.

The Town Crier photographer photographed the door, but the print was made backwards, so that the deer is facing the wrong way. If Louie wants to shoot the deer he can hold the gun backwards, too.

Small children of the camp counselors (called Jills) will be cared for by Mrs. George Webster at her home in Wilmington. Mrs. Richard Draper will be in charge of school age sons of the counselors (called Jax) at the camp site. The Camp Nurse will be Mrs. Laurence Dowling.

Believing that residential segregation is contrary to God's will and the American heritage of freedom and that every person, regardless of race, who intends to be a good law-abiding neighbor, has a right to make his home in our midst with a claim upon our friendship and Christian concern.

We therefore resolve that every person is entitled to a place in society which he has won by industry and character. We further urge that all members of the community examine their consciences and convictions so that they may work actively to prepare our community for integration.

'Family Sunday' will take place at 10 a.m. on Sept. 11th with all church families urged to attend worship service together.

Church office hour, during the pastor's vacation, will remain approximately the same, but inasmuch as the church program is at a minimum during the summer months, some flexibility of hours will be employed. The church secretary may be reached either at the office OL 8-2264, or at home OL 8-2473. Mr. Ralph Anderson, building custodian may be reached at OL 8-2655 if the use of a key is required.

The North Branch will conduct rug-hooking sessions each Monday during the summer, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., in the vestry. PCC members are urged to submit to the church office, any completed sector forms. Report of illness in parish families, etc., should be reported immediately.

At an officially called meeting of the congregation, June 19th, at 11 a.m., the following resolution was adopted by the Congregational Church in Wilmington:

'At a meeting of the Wilmington Council of Churches, Feb. 12, 1960, a resolution concerning fair-housing practices was presented from the Social Welfare Comm. for consideration. The resolution is as follows: We, the members of the Wilmington Council of Churches, lead by the example and precepts of our Lord Jesus Christ that all men are brothers and that no discrimination because of race, color, religion or
